Dear Swampy: This is from the bourbon-voiced showman, and the thirsty lawyer converting local dollars into spirits, who, as I have told the world, does not mind criticism after committing every sin known to man, but who does find displeasure in your discrediting my number one joke: my grandfather who allowed the cards to float out of his pocket while being baptized, and my infant father telling his mother that if he could not win with the cards the Lord couldn't do him any good. That was a good joke, Swampy, and I do not appreciate your discrediting same. No I am not Will Rogers, but, per you, I am W. C. Fields or something named Cyclops. Now who the latter is, I do not know, and I doubt us unlearned people in the area will realize who you are talking about.

Be that as it may, you are a good Joe, you let me down light, and I sincerely appreciate your editorial, with, of course, the exception of you discrediting my favorite joke.

With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am, yours sincerely,

P.S.: I understand that your old crony Alex Washburn, Hope Star, has really torn me up; but, as you know, I love the publicity, and I hereby request that you and Alex keep it up. I need the business from out of town, and, especially, across the street from the courthouse. Out of town lawyers really need the business, Swampy, from across the street. Your Old Buddy,

BOYD

There are two kinds of fights—the ones you start, and the ones you get into which someone else started. I got into this one secondhand.

Editor Louis Graves of the Nashville News felt called upon to write a comment on the trial of the Howard county judge on a false pretense charge, a trial in which the judge, defended by Boyd Tackett, was acquitted.

Editor Graves wrote, among other things: "A fair deduction would be that the jury found the judge innocent and the defense attorney found the Nashville News guilty."

I thought Louis did a compact job of writing—and reprinted his entire piece in this column Nov. 7.

Therefore when the highly vocal Mr. Tackett elected to start swinging at Louis Graves and the News he let a couple fly in the direction of this column and The Star.

And, having printed Louis' side, obviously I have to accommodate Boyd.

Which reminds me of the proverb:

"He that meddles with a quarrel not his own is like unto one that grabs a sleeping dog by the ears."

'Cutting the ribbon'

Miss Arkansas, Debbie Hazelwood of Magnolia, cut the ribbon officially opening the last 8.9-mile section of Interstate 30.

Aiding her is Gov. Dale Bumpers, right.

Final gap of I-30 is opened

More than 500 persons were on hand Friday afternoon to view the official opening of the final 8.9 miles of Interstate 30 connecting Dallas with Little Rock.

Gov. Dale Bumpers made the dedicatory address at the Highway 299 Interchange, north of Emmet and Prescott.

Miss Arkansas, Debbie Hazelwood of Magnolia, cut the ribbon opening the highway as newsmen from three states — Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas — filmed the event.

Miss Arkansas was assisted by Gov. Bumpers and other dignitaries, including Ward Goodman, director of state Highway Department, and John Harsh, chairman of the state Highway Commission.

The section opened Friday enables motorists to travel from Dallas to North Little Rock, a distance of 313 miles on four-and six-lane highway. I-30 extends more than 140 miles in Arkansas and represents an expenditure of more than $130 million.

Gov. Bumpers hit hard on the point that "The opening of this section of highway makes this state the first in the nation to finish its rural interstate system." Bumpers praised the interstate system, claiming it saved lives and cut the number of injuries on non-interstate to less than half.

"We save one life per year for each five miles of interstate highway opened to motorists," he said. In his short speech, Bumpers also suggested a plan to enable more than 80 state troopers now issuing drivers licenses in Arkansas to patrol the state's highways. "These other jobs could be turned over to civilians," he said.

Hope and Prescott High School bands provided music for the event, and National Guard units from the two towns presented the colors.

George Frazier of Hope was master of ceremonies.

Passengers talk of sky pirates, crew is praised

MIAMI (AP) — Their 28-hour, 3,000-mile flight of terror ended, passengers aboard a hijacked jetliner have returned from Cuba with bizarre tales of three "deranged" sky pirates.

They also had words of praise for the Southern Airways crew which landed the crippled DC9 on a foam-covered Havana runway.

Another Southern DC9 returned the 27 passengers and four crewmen to Miami and finally to their original destinations Sunday after an attempt by FBI sharpshooters to halt the hijacking failed Saturday night and forced the emergency landing in Cuba.

All three hijackers were taken into custody by Cuban officials at Havana. Passengers said Cuban authorities also confiscated ransom money demanded and collected by the hijackers from Southern.

"Everyone thought they would be dead in an hour," said passenger Gale Buchanan at a Miami hospital, recalling how FBI agents shot out four of the plane's tires as it prepared for takeoff after a refueling stop at Orlando, Fla.

Buchanan, 38, of Auburn, Ala., who suffered a sprained knee, was one of four persons injured during the hijacking. Copilot Billy Johnson, 37, mayor of College City, Ark., was shot in the shoulder by one of the hijackers.

Buchanan said the hijackers acted in a bizarre manner during the circuitous, three-nation flight. He said they alternately handed out fistfuls of ransom money, forced male passengers to remove their pants and shot the copilot after threatening to "put a bullet in your head."

The hijackers, reportedly armed with guns and grenades, had demanded a $10-million ransom for the plane and its passengers. An undisclosed amount of money was given to the sky pirates during a stop in Chattanooga, Tenn., Saturday. Southern refused to say how much money had been given to them.

There also were several other unanswered points: —Were the hijackers screened for weapons when they boarded the Southern jet at Birmingham shortly before they commandeered the plane Friday night?

Trial to continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today allowed the government to proceed with the Pentagon Papers trial of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo without revealing to them who in the defense team was overheard in a "foreign-intelligence" wiretap.

Ellsberg and Russo are charged with espionage, conspiracy and misuse of government property in the publication of the once-secret study of the origins of the Vietnam war. Their trial in Los Angeles has been delayed since July 29 by the dispute over wiretapping.

The court did not comment on the issues as it handed down a routine order declining to hear an appeal by Ellsberg and Russo, who argued also that "foreign-intelligence" wiretaps without warrants are illegal.

A dissenting opinion was filed by Justice William O. Douglas who stayed the trial in July while the court was in its summer recess. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. also dissented.

Ellsberg and Russo needed the votes of at least four justices to have their appeal taken up by the court. The vote (Continued on page 7)

Three area men killed

Three area men were killed Saturday as the result of a head-on two-vehicle accident three miles west of Columbus on State Highway 73 in Howard County.

Two brothers, Douglas K. Caldwell, 18, the driver of a 1972 Chevrolet, and Gary L. Caldwell, 20, a passenger in the car, were killed; the younger Caldwell man was pronounced dead at the scene and his brother was dead on arrival at the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital. Both were residents of Columbus.

The driver of the other vehicle, Billy Ray Rosenbaum, 32, died Saturday night at the Memorial Hospital as a result of injuries received in the accident, according to the State Police. He was a resident of Fulton.

According to the investigating officers, State Troopers Harvey Fullerton and David Hendershott, the Caldwell vehicle was traveling west and met the Rosenbaum auto, a 1967 Chevrolet, head-on at the crest of a hill. The State Police said that both vehicles were across the center line on impact.

Double services for the Caldwells were held at 2 p.m. today (Monday) in the Hendon Chapel with the Rev. M. H. Peebles officiating. Burial was in the Columbus Cemetery under the direction of Herndon Funeral Home.

They are survived by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Caldwell of Hope; a sister, Mrs. Rita McCulley of Hope; a brother, Charles C. Jr. of Columbus; paternal grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Caldwell of Columbus; and maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. K. Boyce of Columbus.

Funeral services for Mr. Rosenbaum were held at 11 a.m. today (Monday) in the Herndon Chapel with Rev. Peebles and Rev. John Cannon officiating. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery under the direction of Herndon Funeral Home.

He is survived by two daughters, Jinna and Penny; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rosenbaum; two brothers, Larry and Dennis, all of Fulton; and his paternal grandfather, C. E. Rosenbaum of Hope.

China to oppose proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — China prepared a blast against the Soviet Union in the U.N. General Assembly today, opposing a Soviet proposal for an assembly declaration renouncing the use of force and banning nuclear weapons.

Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua, chairman of the Chinese delegation, was one of a dozen speakers listed for the assembly debate on the Soviet proposal.

Peking's official People's Daily commented on Sunday that, while the Soviets were proposing the prohibition of all kinds of weapons, they were building up their supply "for carrying out unbridled nuclear threat and nuclear blackmail against countries with little or no nuclear armament."

During the assembly's general debate on Oct. 3, Chiao described the Soviet resolution as "shabby stuff." He opposed an unconditional declaration against the use of force, explaining: "We support just wars." And he said the Soviet Union should declare that it would not be the first to use nuclear weapons before it talks of banning them altogether.

The Soviet resolution, submitted Sept. 26 by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, declares on behalf of U.N. members "their renunciation of the use of force in international relations and the permanent prohibition of nuclear weapons."

It recommends that the Security Council give the declaration binding force under the U.N. charter. But diplomatic sources said Western European countries had objected to this provision because the U.N. charter says the council cannot adopt a binding decision without finding that there is a threat to peace in a specific case.

Mariner 9 enters Mars orbit

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A year ago today, a 2,200-pound spacecraft slipped into orbit around Mars and began making scientific history.

Mariner 9 was the first man-made object to circle another planet. Before it stopped sending data back to earth last Oct. 27, it transmitted 7,329 pictures that changed scientists' ideas about the Red Planet.

"The biggest thing is that Mars is really more earth-like than we expected from previous missions," said Dr. Thomas Vebalovich, assistant project scientist for Mariner 9 at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here.

"The mission also raised a slim possibility of life there now."

In 349 days of mapping, Mariner told man more about the neighboring planet than he had learned in three centuries of looking at it through telescopes.

A picture emerged of a planet with an atmospheric pressure one-hundredth that of earth, where windstorms rage around the globe at 115 miles an hour, where volcanic mountains spread 300 miles across and a 20,000-foot-deep canyon stretches 3,000 miles.

How's Your Hearing?

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

Try it to see how it is worn in the privacy of your own home without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep, free. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

following his homecoming after two days of talks with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu and short stops in Cambodia and South Korea. The U.S. embassy described the talks with Thieu as "cordial and constructive."

Nixon came back to Washington from Key Biscayne, Fla., Sunday night for a few hours' stay before proceeding to his Camp David, Md., retreat.

Kissinger weekend in New York, seeing a Broadway play and a professional football game after which he mingled in the locker room with quarterback Joe Namath and others of the New York Jets.

Just when Kissinger will head for Paris to meet again with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho remains a secret. Administration officials maintained their air of confidence, however, about moving toward final accord on ending the war.

Hanoi envoy Xuan Thuy anticipated a further Kissinger-Thieu meeting in a Paris interview over the weekend, though he held to North Vietnam's position that the session should be devoted to procedures for signing the proposed nine-point pact—not to altering it.

U.S. officials in Saigon indicated Haig's talks with Thieu narrowed U.S.-South Vietnamese differences, apparently clearing the way for resumption of the private negotiations in Paris.

Haig, Kissinger's top aide, was reported to have carried a Nixon letter to Thieu and presumably received one from Thieu to Nixon.

Haig conferred in Phnom Penh with the Cambodian chief of state, Lon Nol, and in Seoul with President Chung Hee Park.

Both countries would be directly affected by the nine-point plan. It calls for withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from Cambodia and for a pull-out of South Korean troops, along with the Americans, from South Vietnam. Some 37,000 South Koreans are in South Vietnam.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon had received "lots of reports" from Haig during the trip. He declined to answer any substantive questions about the negotiations beyond saying "everything we have said before stands."

But the Saigon newspaper Tin Song, which is controlled by Thieu's closest adviser, said Haig and the president had made "no further progress" in their talks.

The report said three major points still were to be resolved: the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces, the administrative organization to maintain the cease-fire and supervise elections and under what conditions and when will the international body to police the cease-fire begin work.

Two die in wrecks

In another wreck, John A. Turner, 56, of Gurdon was struck and killed late Saturday, State Police reported, as he attempted to walk across Highway 67 about a half mile north of Gurdon. Donald R. Bailey of Jacksonville struck Turner in an attempt to avoid a collision with another vehicle authorities said.

Marie B. Wilson, 59, of Prescott, was killed late Friday as she attempted a left turn into a driveway off Highway 19 three miles north of Prescott. According to State Trooper Tommy Carman, Jerry Lee Hill of Delight was traveling south when the Wilson vehicle turned left in his path.

Mrs. Wilson was transferred to a Little Rock hospital, where she later died as a result of injuries received in the crash.

All Around Town

Capt. Homer Purtle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Purtle of Prescott, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Wheeler AFB, Hawaii.

Captain Purtle was cited for meritorious service as chief of the systems integration division at Oklahoma City Air Force Station, Okla.

He now serves at Wheeler as chief of maintenance for the 1891st Communications Squadron.

The captain was commissioned in 1969 upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

A 1963 graduate of Prescott

High School, he earned his B.S. degree in electrical engineering in 1968 at the University of Arkansas.

All Hope Schools will be closed at about 2:15 p.m. Tuesday due to a teachers' meeting. According to Jimmy Jones, superintendent of schools.

Private army emerging

BELFAST (AP) — Another private army is emerging in Northern Ireland, this time composed of former Roman Catholic servicemen who say they are banding together for protection from the Protestants.

The province remained relatively quiet Sunday night, but police said a man was shot in the head and seriously wounded in the countryside outside Belfast.

The Catholic Ex-Servicemen's Association, which claims 20,000 members, announced Sunday it is forming active "defensive" units to patrol areas of Belfast. However, it claimed not to have any guns.

The association said it began recruiting in strength last week after Protestant gasoline-bomb attacks on Catholic houses in the Andersonstown district of Belfast. The Catholics claimed the British army was not providing sufficient protection.

The Catholics already have the underground guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army. The new organization apparently will pattern itself on the Ulster Defense Association.

"The UDA has shown that, if you want to get anywhere with the British army, you must put thousands of men on the streets in a show of strength," Phil Curran, chairman of the Ex-Servicemen's Association, told a meeting of 200 men Sunday.

Invitation to Weems extended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pros. Atty. Sam Weems of Stuttgart will be invited to appear at the Dec. 15 meeting of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee to explain why he has dropped charges against a former Lonoke County collector in connection with a shortage of more than $32,000 in funds, the committee said Saturday.

Also at its meeting Saturday, the committee voted to forward information it has about the fund shortage to the Arkansas Association of Prosecuting Attorneys to get that group's opinion on whether prosecution is warranted.

Weems had been invited to appear Saturday before the committee to explain a statement he had made that he was dropping charges against former Lonoke County Collector Mrs. Floyd Abbott and her daughter and a former deputy.

Mrs. Marjorie Barrentine, because he did not have sufficient information to take the case to trial.

Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Barrentine were charged with grand larceny in February of 1970 after an audit showed that the funds were missing.

Flooding in state is 'bad'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers says flooding in Arkansas this month was the worst in recent history, according to preliminary estimates.

The governor said Saturday it was believed that Arkansas would qualify for major disaster relief, although it is impossible at this time to determine the total damage because the water has not yet receded.

"Crop damage in Eastern Arkansas will run into the millions," Bumpers said in a statement. "Many farmers have been completely wiped out. Damages to roads, highways and public utilities were extensive, particularly in Southwest Arkansas," Bumpers said.

The governor said he had asked the state Civil Defense to appraise the damage as quickly as possible.

Ralph Moore, state director of Civil Defense, asked that farmers who have suffered agriculture damage contact local chairmen of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Moore said that public officials should furnish estimates of damage to public property to the state Civil Defense office at Conway.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

Family oriented matters will assume new importance in your life. Your methods will be secretive, letting results speak for themselves.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): If you are negotiating agreements, push for a quick settlement. Bargains made today favor you.
TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): A task that was formerly difficult can be resolved today. Dedicate yourself to its completion.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A male friend you know on a social basis may have some new contacts for you. They'll figure in your future plans.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): Important changes get another boost today. Keep pace with events to keep them in hand.
LEO (July 23-Aug 22): You may spend a lot of time on the phone or answering old correspondence. Concentrate on communication.
VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): Some work you contemplate is worth more than you think. Don't sell your efforts cheaply.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): If a group you're involved with needs a spokesman, you'll probably be it. Others seek your answers.
SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Conditions are such that you may have to devote a considerable portion of your time today helping another.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): Don't be too surprised if you hear from someone unexpectedly. You may have a little "telephonic" yourself.
CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Some outfit is required to enhance your image. The funds will be well spent, serving their purpose.
AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): Look beyond today to tomorrow's needs. It's a favorable time to make arrangements for the future.
PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): A return on a joint venture could come in just when you need it. Others may pay-up past obligations.

TV's Weekend Sports... Again!

DEAR HELEN:

I gather from your not-so-veiled remarks that you are not a TV-weekend fan. Monday sports fan. (Small correction: Love demolition derbies; snow, ice and water sports; dis-love football and similar weekend hazards.—H.) Why don't you enroll in one of those college extension courses designed to teach women how to enjoy so-called "men's sports"? Then you can enjoy along with your husband.

I am trying to encourage my wife along those lines but she is so stubborn. Why are you women so darn stubborn?
ARMCHAIR ATHLETE
DEAR A.A.:

... Because a college sports appreciation course might teach us more than we really want to know about those time-eating televised games.

Look friend, you shouldn't force football on your wife any more than she should force Julia Child or Dr. Welby on you. After all, TV togetherness isn't a No. 1 requisite for marital bliss—unless TV is the only thing you do together.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Shame on the stepfather who wouldn't let his wife's sons have bedtime-meals snacks. Doesn't he know that growing boys require about 3000 calories a day, whereas a sedentary man needs no more than 2500?

Maybe a calorie counting book would knock some sense in his head.—MOTHER OF TEENAGE BOYS
DEAR HELEN:

I feel for "Wit's End," whose husband won't let her sons near the refrigerator. I have a similar problem, but from a different angle.

My husband checks out the cupboards and refrigerator each morning, and the garbage can. The minute he comes home, he does another check and if anything is missing from one and added to the other, I'm accused of feeding my relatives, friends, or myself! I can't even give my mother a soft drink when she occasionally visits me, yet he can drop $100 at the race track and it's "just the breaks."

He never takes me anywhere or buys me anything, even dresses. I have a chance for a job, but he says if I stop out of the house and am not here to bake his bread and fix his fancy Italian meat sauces I can keep going. He makes this stick by not even leaving me $5 cents for carfare. What should I do? —BAREFOOT BUT NOT PG, THANK GOODNESS

DEAR BENPTG:

Make an appointment for the job interview, borrow carfare, and take one giant step for womankind!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband's brother, age 18, is spending the year with us, working as a carpenter's helper. I like the kid, but Helen, he's a slob!

He takes a shower no more than once a week, never brushes his teeth, doesn't even wash when he gets up in the morning. His hair is a disaster, and so are his clothes. He sleeps in his underwear and only changes after his occasional bath. I can't even sneak his dirty shorts out, as he always has them on.

I finally took matters in my own hands (as my husband didn't want to embarrass him). Last week I told him there were some things on the staircase for him. I left deodorant, soap, toothpaste, mouthwash and clean underwear there. His reply was, "Do I have to USE all these things?" I nearly died: I was stunned to silence. So what do I do now? —NOSE PLUGGED

Christmas Bazaar begins Tuesday

Members of the Hope Junior Auxiliary are preparing for their annual Christmas Bazaar which will be held in the First National Bank lobby on Tuesday, Nov. 14, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Nov. 15 and 16 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The annual event is one of the major fundraising projects which the Auxiliary undertakes to finance various projects.

Projects benefiting from the proceeds include the Hemstead Child Development Center; School of Hope; Children's Colony; Welfare projects; Girl Scout campership; Girls' State delegates; Art awareness program in the elementary schools; Enrichment program in the elementary schools; Music program in the elementary schools; and Christmas boxes for needy children.

Mrs. Formby addresses DAR

The John Cain Chapter of the DAR, met November 8 at the Town and Country for its regular monthly luncheon meeting. Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. Eugene E. Cline of Oregon City, Ore., were served from a table centered with an arrangement of gold and brass chrysanthemums and fall leaves. The opening ritual was conducted by the Regent, Mrs. Paul Klipsch, with Mrs. Floyd Matthews serving as Chaplain.

In the President General's message read by Mrs. Klipsch, Mrs. Donald Spicer reminded members to be grateful for the opportunity of rendering service to the nation. She said that one of the greatest opportunities was in helping to support these DAR schools: Kate Duncan Smith, Tamassee, Berry College, Crossnore, and St. Mary's School for Indian Girls. Contributions to these can help to promote patriotic and religious principles as well as instilling basic knowledge for these young people.

Mrs. E.F. Formby presented the program, "Our Day in History," in which she pointed out that pioneer women used weapons at hand against their enemies. Today our weapons are the knowledge of ideas and ideals. To keep America secure we must work constantly to keep alive the blessings of our heritage by informing ourselves and our youth about the freedom and the God-given blessings we have inherited from our nation.

Doubling in Belts

Belts have slimmed down for the summer and a current trend is to wear more than one at a time. As many as three of these skinny belts can be worn over a sweater to create a special color effect.

Senior Citizens meet

The Senior Citizens met at the Douglas Building November 8. After the president, Mrs. N.J. Burns, had called the meeting to order, the secretary, Mrs. Edith Powell, called the roll. Mrs. Burns, then, read Psalm 136:1-12, and Mrs. J.R. Goins offered prayer.

A special guest was Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, who presented a program, "Make Surroundings Cheerful with the Christmas Look." Twelve members and two guests, Karen Mitchell, and the speaker, were at the meeting.

Mrs. J.R. Goins was elected secretary for the new club year, and all other officers will serve another year in their present positions. Mrs. Burns read a poem, "This I Know," and Mrs. Ollie Martin won the door prize. Coffee, tea, and cookies were served.

The meeting will be a Christmas luncheon on Dec. 19. Each member is asked to bring a gift for his or her secret pal.

Mrs. Charles Taylor reminded members to bring Christmas packages for patients at Fort Rucker who have no families. These gifts are to be brought to the December 13th meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. G.E. Hyatt, Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. John Keck.

CHAMBER MUSIC

COMES TO KENNEDY WASHINGTON (AP)—The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will present the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center in a subscription series of five concerts during the coming season.

Last season, this chamber group was heard in three concerts which attracted nearly 2,000 subscribers.

This year cellist Gregor Piatigorsky will be among the guest artists.

Owls beat Hogs in final second

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas defense, like a rubber band, can only stretch so far. The Razorbacks offense put too much pressure on the defense and it finally snapped Saturday as Roland Boyce scored from one yard out with one second remaining to give Rice a 23-20 victory over the Razorbacks.

The Razorbacks had possession five times after Dickey Morton had put them ahead with a 39-yard touchdown run in the third quarter and not once could the offense make a first down. Arkansas' final 15 plays, excluding punts, netted a total of two yards.

Several factors contributed to the lack of success — poor field position, poor execution and Rice's defense.

Arkansas started its final four possessions at its own 15, 20, 18 and 5.

The loss was the Razorbacks' third in the last four weeks and apparently removed them from the bowl lists.

"This football team is not alibing, and the players aren't alibing," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "We're not asking for sympathy, we're just asking for support. We're tremendously disappointed in the record (5-4), but we're not disappointed in the team."

"It's difficult to prepare yourself after things have gone like they have," Broyles said. "The toughest thing on us was being picked so high. But we're looking forward to the future. Now is the time we really need to have the fans on our side."

"There are very few poor football teams anymore," Broyles said. "It's like walking along a very slippery limb. It's easy to slip off as we have slipped off this year."

He pointed out that the Razorbacks rebounded from disastrous seasons in 1963 and 1967 to have some of their most successful teams.

Rice, just as it did last year, got off to a 10-0 lead.

A 52-yard punt return by Bruce Henley set up the first of three of Mark Williams' field goals. When Jon Richardson fumbled the ensuing kickoff, the Owls recovered at the 30 and moved in for the touchdown.

Arkansas retaliated with a 71-yard drive that ended with Joe Ferguson keeping for nine yards, and a dying-swan type field goal by Mike Kirkland seconds before the half made it 10-10.

As one wit pointed out, the two teams had played six quarters and were still even. Arkansas had salvaged a 24-24 tie with the Owls at Houston last year with a field goal on the last play of the game.

In the second half Saturday, Rice took possession five times in Arkansas territory and once the Owls were only 50 yards away.

In the last two games we've played, if the defense hadn't been outstanding, instead of losing by three points, we probably would have lost by three touchdowns," Broyles said.

Arkansas had six passes intercepted two weeks ago in a 10-7 loss to Texas A&M. Against Rice, the Razorbacks attempted only 12 passes, completed three, and had none intercepted as they operated mostly out of the wishbone.

"We thought we could make some first downs running the ball," Broyles said. "It's really tough to cock that arm and throw it down there in your own territory. Those are decisions you have to make and if you're wrong, they stand a chance to win."

Rice went ahead 13-10 in the third quarter after recovering an Arkansas fumble at the Razorback 31.

Morton, who established an Arkansas one-season rushing record, broke off tackle for 39 yards to put the Razorbacks ahead 17-13. Morton gained 88 yards on 16 carries giving him 961 yards for the season. Bobby Burnett set the record of 947 yards in 1965. Significantly, Burnett carried 232 times and Morton has had only 181 attempts.

"I'd like to think that if Mark had been in the ball game we would have been better on pass defense," Broyles said.

Arkansas plays SMU Saturday at Fayetteville.

How 'Keep Off My Turf' Proves You Can't Write a Book by Butting Typewriter Keys with your Football Helmet.

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — In Baltimore Colt linebacker Mike Curtis' new autobiography, "Keep Off My Turf" ($5.95 Lippincott), there are touching moments that will wrench tears. Here is one: When 16-year-old Mike sees his name in the newspaper sports section for the first time he hurries with it to his father's knee and exults. "Durn. Dad, that's pretty neat."

Deep sensitivity toward his fellow human beings runs rampant. When taping a television show in Hollywood he is disillusioned because "the dancers showed up looking like a bunch of dogs."

There are lessons in sportsmanship for the youth of America: "Some guys, unfortunately, would deliberately go for (Joe Namath's) knees. You find creatures like that in any sport, those who try to hurt you intentionally. I don't agree with that. If you want to get (someone) out of the game, hit him in the head when you're coming straight for him. That's a fair shot."

The book is filled with wide-splitting humor, such as his rollicking quips with teammate Bubba Smith: "He calls me honky and I call him nigger and we both laugh like hell about it."

All this is just the hors d'oeuvres: the meat of the book is Curtis' soaring logic.

"Football's critics," he philosophizes, "emphasize revolution in their books. We saw some examples of revolution last year in the attempts to stop the government and in the bombing of the U.S. Capitol building." One has as much to do with the other as long passes and literal bombs.

Curtis says he has written this book because there is too much "antifootball sentiment in the air these days." And he thinks "it's time somebody stood up in defense of the sport."

His targets primarily are Dave Meggsey, Bernie Parrish and Johnny Sample, all of whom have written what have been called antiestablishment football books. He also lands with heavy knees and heavy theory on Jim Bouton's breastbone, even though Bouton wrote his controversial book about baseball. But if we are to be troubled by inconsistencies then we would have little sympathy for the author.

First, he says that these "malcontents" are "fringe players." Then he says they made a lot of money from the game. But when have fringe players made a lot of money from the game other than when they knew the combination to the club owner's safe?

Then he says that they wrote their books to make money. Apparently Curtis wants the reader to believe that his literary pursuits are strictly to enrich humanity.

Meggsey said pro football players took pep pills. "Football players are not a bunch of hopped-up dope addicts," refutes Curtis. "I don't take any of that stuff. It tires you out and makes you weak." How does he know?

MIKE CURTIS looks as if he is unable to believe he wrote the whole thing. (Photo by Malcolm Emmons of Delaware, Ohio, from the Pro Football Hall of Fame 1971 Professional Photographers Contest.)

"You may think you're playing better but you're not." How does he know? He doesn't say.

Meggsey also had said that there is a "dehumanizing" sadism to players intentionally hurting opponents. Curtis, who proudly sports the nicknames "Animal" and "Mad Dog," said he would never intentionally hurt an opponent — unless provoked: "I vaulted over the circle of players, landed in the middle and swatted (Donnie) Green (of Buffalo) across the forehead with my arm. I got kicked out of the game for it, but what the hell."

At other points, Curtis tells how he whacked his opponent, and "beat the living hell" out of another. But he is critical of Sample who is "boastful" about "foul play" — "and that's supposed to make you think he was tough."

Curtis wants the world to know that football is a "decent game" played by "decent people."

He looks with amazement at all the criticism he received when, as the paragon of decency, he "decked" a fan and sent him to the hospital. The fan had run onto the field during a game to swipe a ball. Curtis decided to punish the man, even though there were hundreds of policemen and ushers placed on the scene to handle such "fans."

In one breath Curtis says he saw a wrong-doer and punished him. In the next breath he says that "you don't strengthen any society by defying laws." He forgets the law about taking the law into your own hands.

Curtis takes satisfaction over a former teammate saying that "Mike eats the panes right out of the bus windows on the way to practice."

Glass, it may be assumed, is more digestible than this book.

Longhorns headed for Cotton Bowl

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

In the so-called "Year of Parity" in the Southwest Conference, the only question being asked is "Who's Texas gonna play in the Cotton Bowl for the fifth consecutive year?"

While everybody else was beating each other up, Texas rolled through the "balanced" league for at least a tie for the SWC title. And it will take a football miracle to keep the Longhorns from an outright crown.

Texas, following its 17-3 victory over Baylor Saturday, owns a two-game lead over Texas Tech, Baylor and Texas Christian with two games to play.

The Longhorns can clinch the title with a victory Saturday in Fort Worth against Texas Christian which mangled Tech 31-7.

The Longhorns' last game is Thanksgiving Day against Texas A&M in Austin. The Aggies strapped Southern Methodist 27-17 Saturday.

In the only other SWC game, Rice freshman Roland Boyce, playing his first game of the season, scored on a one-yard plunge with one second left to defeat Arkansas, the pre-season SWC favorite, 23-20.

Cotton Bowl officials received a big boost Saturday when Alabama bombed LSU 35-21 while Nebraska was tied 23-23 by Iowa State.

The guest team for the Cotton Bowl can be signed at 6 p.m. CST next Saturday and a Texas-Alabama match is a possibility.

The Cotton Bowl and Orange Bowls are courting the unbeaten crimson Tide heavily.

Alabama is certain to rise above Nebraska in the poll balloting this week and Cotton Bowl insiders feel Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant wouldn't feel as compelled to keep an Orange Bowl date with the cornhuskers if they outranked them in the polls.

"I've had no time to think about bowls," Bryant said, "But if there's a choice we'll let the players decide."

Quarterback Terry Davis of the Crimson Tide said he personally would "rather go to the Sugar or Cotton Bowl for a chance of scenery." "The Tide lost to Nebraska last year in the Orange Bowl."

Of course, Texas Coach Darrell Royal is still "sweating" the SWC race, saying "I'm not breathing easy...not whenever I am reminded that TCU beat Tech 31-7. It seems like that's the way we're catching people."

Prescott heads for semifinals

By RICKY FAWCETT
Star Sports Writer

Jerry Flemons ran for 210 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Prescott Curly Wolves to the semifinals of the Class A playoff by whipping Little Rock Robinson 39-14. Flemons scored on runs of 3, 23, and 64 yards. Quarterback Ronnie Johnson also threw three scoring passes to end James Langston.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Curly Wolves drove 65 yards in six plays. Flemons scored from three yards out. Flemons added the point after touchdown making the score 7-0. Prescott.

Prescott scored again on their next possession on a 36 yard pass to Langston. The PAT was good and Prescott led 14-0.

The Senators then put together a 57 yard drive in seven plays. Mike Casey scored on a 36 yard pass from Anthony Colwyne. The PAT was good and Robinson trailed 14-7.

The Wolves took the kickoff and five plays later were in the end zone. Langston again hauled in a T.D. pass, this time from 50 yards, making the score 20-7 at the end of the first quarter.

Tony Spearman intercepted Colwyne to set up Prescott's fourth touchdown. Flemons then sprinted 23 yards to paydirt as Prescott led 26-7.

The Senators scored again early in the third period. Casey caught a Colwyne pass, this time from six yards, for the score. Glenn Boshear's extra point then cut the Prescott lead, 26-14.

The Wolves then drove 87 yards in five plays. Langston caught a 50 yard bomb for the score. Flemon's kick was good and Prescott led 33-14.

Robinson held the Wolves in check until late in the fourth quarter. With 2:40 left, Flemons broke on a 64 yard gallop making the final score, Prescott 39, Little Rock Robinson 14.

Prescott's next week opponent is Greenwood. Greenwood is 11-0, and as Coach Charles Montgomery calls them, "a real fine ball club."

Bowl bids go out next week

By HERSCHEL NISSENBOON

Associated Press Sports Writer

The major bowl bids go out next weekend and unless something goes wrong in the next couple of weeks it looks as though the Rose Bowl will have the Game of the Year.

Of course, something went awfully wrong Saturday for four members of The Associated Press Top Ten—second-ranked Alabama topped No. 6 Louisiana State 35-21, third-ranked Nebraska had its hopes for a third consecutive national championship diminished in a 23-all tie with No. 17 Iowa State, fifth-ranked Ohio State was upset by Michigan State 19-12 and No. 8 UCLA bowed to Washington 30-21.

Elsewhere, top-rated Southern California was idle, fourth-ranked Michigan walloped Iowa 31-4 with the likelihood of climbing past Nebraska in this week's ratings; seventh-ranked Oklahoma held off No. 14 Missouri 17-4, No. 9 Texas shaded Baylor 17-3, clinching at least a tie for their fifth straight Southwest Conference crown, and No. 16 Penn State trimmed North Carolina State 37-22.

That left Southern Cal and Michigan as the favorites in the race for the Rose Bowl. The Trojans lead UCLA by one game in the Pacific-8 Conference—they meet on Saturday—and the Wolverines are in front of Ohio State and Purdue by the same margin in the Big Ten and face the latter this weekend and the former the following Saturday.

It was generally assumed that the Alabama-LSU winner would go to the Orange Bowl, but quarterback Terry Davis, for one, said he would "rather go to the Sugar or Cotton Bowl for a change of scenery." The Crimson Tide lost to national champion Nebraska in the Orange Bowl last New Year's night.

Cotton Bowl insiders feel their chances to land Alabama improved considerably over the weekend thanks to Nebraska's slip-up against Iowa State. Actually, the Cornhuskers were fortunate to escape defeat since Iowa State's Tom Gooden missed an extra point attempt after the Cyclones tied the score on George Amundson's 34-yard pass to Willie Jones with 23 seconds left.

Davis directed Alabama's Washbone attack to 335 yards on the ground and 157 through the air, the latter total coming as he completed 10 of 18 attempts, including touchdown passes of 25 and 29 yards to Wayne Wheeler.

Nebraska and Iowa State waged a see-saw battle, with Amundson earlier throwing a pair of scoring passes to Keith Krepfle and Dave Hamm of the Cornhuskers scoring once and hitting Johnny Rodgers twice for touchdowns.

Michigan sophomore Dennis Franklin passed for two touchdowns and scored one as the Wolverines drubbed Iowa and snapped a Big Ten tie with Ohio State.

Woody Hayes' Buckeyes lost to Michigan State when Dutch kicker Dirk Krijt, making his collegiate debut after starting the season on the junior varsity, booted a Big Ten record-tying four field goals.

"We couldn't do anything in the second half," Hayes said. "We took a real beating out there from a good team. It was not a typical Ohio State University football game with all those fumbles we had. If you've been in the coaching business long, you have days like this. We lost to a superior team. What more can you say?"

That was the extent of a typical 14-second Hayes press conference after losing to Ohio State University football game.

Greg Pruitt gained 196 of Oklahoma's 422 rushing yards as the Sooners turned back stubborn Missouri; Sonny Sixkiller returned to action for Washington and the Huskies upset UCLA behind Sixkiller's passing and four short touchdown runs by Pete Taggares; Texas was held to a 3-3 tie by Baylor until Roosevelt Leaks scored twice in the fourth quarter and Penn State swept by N.C. State as John Hufnagel scored once and passed for two TDs.

In the Second Ten, Nos. 11 Auburn and 13 Tennessee were idle, but No. 12 Notre Dame whipped Air Force 21-7; Texas Christian stunned No. 15 Texas Tech 31-7; No. 16 Colorado breezed past Kansas 33-8; No. 18 North Carolina trounced Virginia 23-3; No. 19 Arizona State buried New Mexico 60-7 and Stanford and Yale, tied for 20th, both lost—Washington State downing Stanford 27-13 and Penn blasting Yale 48-30 and knocking the losers out of the Ivy League lead.

Bobcats open basketball season Tuesday

By RICKY FAWCETT
Star Sports Writer

Tomorrow night when the Hope basketball teams travel to Spring Hill, it will open another year of basketball in Hope.

The Hope Ladycats have nine members returning from last year's team. They also have a new coach, Mrs. Charlotte Burnett, who has moved up to the Ladycats after two successful seasons as the Kitty Cat coach.

Janet McCain and Gigi Gladney should lead the offense, while Judy Reyenga and Betty Honeycutt will lead the defense.

The Hope Bobcats should improve vastly from last year's 4-18 record.

"We'll play the type of basketball the fans will enjoy, a lot of action," says Coach Harold Alexander.

"We've got around eight or nine players that should play a lot, so we're better balanced this year," Coach Alexander answers.

He expects Magnolia, defending Class AA champs, and Arkadelphia to be the teams to beat in District 7 AA.

"This team is dedicated to basketball, and they need some crowds and enthusiasm to support them," states Coach Alexander.

The Ladycats open their season tomorrow night, while the Bobcats travel to Gurdon on Nov. 21 to play a strong Go-Devil team.

Bobby Hull leads Jets to victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Score the goal for Bobby Hull," barked the voice over the loudspeaker.

The superstar had heard it plenty of times in the National Hockey League—but never before in the World Hockey Association.

Never before Sunday night, that is.

Hull, the former star of the NHL's Chicago Black Hawks, scored his first goal in the WHA, firing in two as his Winnipeg Jets stopped the Los Angeles Sharks 5-1.

Hull was appearing in his fourth game since last Wednesday, when a court ruling gave him the green light to play in the new league.

He was royally received by the adoring Jet fans, who gave the Golden Jet a standing ovation each time he scored.

In the other WHA games Sunday, Ottawa beat Philadelphia 3-1 and Cleveland turned back Alberta 3-1.

In Saturday's action, New England beat the New York Raiders 6-3; Quebec trimmed Houston 3-1, Cleveland tripped Chicago 4-1, and Alberta beat Los Angeles 5-3.

Hull opened Winnipeg's scoring with a goal at 3:18 of the first period, a hard slapshot from inside the blueline that cleanly beat Los Angeles goalie George Gardiner.

He scored his second goal—Winnipeg's fifth—late in the game. The shot was a short backhand flip following a goalmouth pass from linemate Norm Beaudin.

Brian Conacher scored at 17:20 of the final period to lift Ottawa past Philadelphia. Conacher's game-winning came when he attempted to pass across the goal mouth but the puck hit goalie Yves Arch's stick and was deflected into the net.

Power-play goals by Grant Erickson and Gary Jarrett in the first period carried Cleveland past Alberta.

Cavalliers beat Sonics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lenny Wilkens was acquired by Cleveland with the idea he might bring some stability to a young, inexperienced team. It's really too early to tell, but maybe, just maybe the Cavaliers have turned the corner in the National Basketball Association.

Wilkens was the player-coach of the Seattle SuperSonics last season. He was traded to Cleveland this year after resigning from his coaching position, and Sunday night he led the assault on his old charges as the Cavaliers beat the Sonics 112-107.

It was the first time in nine games that Cleveland had beaten Seattle and the loss extended the Sonics' current losing streak to seven games.

The veteran guard controlled the game like Cleveland expected him to do when they got him. He handed out assists, rebounded and scored 22 points to share team honors with Austin Carr.

Some coaches will say that a well-placed loss can be a good thing for a team.

There are some skeptics to that belief, but Henry Hawk, coach of North Little Rock Ole Main, is not one of them.

His Wildcats, despite a loss to Jonesboro in the second game of the season, edged into the top spot in this week's Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll after No. 1 ranked Hot Springs was upset by Fort Smith Southside last Friday.

Little Rock Hall, which has lost only to Ole Main, advanced a notch to second, and Little Rock Catholic moved up one spot to third place.

Hot Springs, after suffering its first setback of the season, dropped to fourth and Magnolia, the undefeated Class AA power, advanced from sixth to fifth, replacing Forrest City, which dropped to seventh after losing Friday.

Jonesboro is sixth, Little Rock Central eighth, Malvern ninth and Newport climbed into the 10th spot.

Results of the poll, with first-place votes and records in parentheses and total points at right:

The city of Philadelphia, much maligned recently because of a poor showing in professional sports, can now thumb its nose at all the detractors.

Yes, there is a winner currently in town. Take a look at the National Hockey League standings.

After Sunday night's 5-3 victory over the California Golden Seals, the Philadelphia Flyers settled into first place in the NHL's West Division.

Bobby Clarke was the hero for the Flyers Sunday night, scoring two goals and contributing two assists in the rout.

Los Angeles, leader in the West for a while, finally dropped out of the front-running position by losing to the New York Rangers, 5-1.

So. State and Harding move closer to championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern State and Harding have moved a step closer in their quest for an AIC football championship.

It would be the first in 20 years for the Muleriders and the first ever for Harding.

SSC and the Bison improved the conference records to 4-1 with victories Saturday and they need only a victory this weekend to warm up their share of the title. Southern State plays UA-Monticello Saturday at Magnolia and Harding entertains State College of Arkansas.

In last Saturday's action, the Muleriders thrashed Arkansas Tech 21-3, Harding bombed UA-Monticello 56-7, UA-Pine Bluff whipped Bishop College 31-3, Ouachita trounced Mississippi College 24-7, and Henderson blasted SCA 40-0.

Fullback Roy McElmore helped ruin Tech's title hopes by storming over for two short-yardage touchdowns. Tech, which finished its season at 5-4 overall and 4-2 in the conference, had six turnovers during the game—three lost fumbles and three interceptions.

The Muleriders scored first on a five-yard pass from quarterback Steve Lamb to Floyd

Canada after Earl Green recovered a fumble at the Tech 22.

Tech then drove 60 yards in 11 plays and scored on Craig Williams' 22-yard field goal.

McElmore got the other touchdowns on one-yard pushes in the third and fourth quarters.

Tailback Alan Dixon scored three times in the Harding-UA-Monticello clash.

Dixon scored on an 80-yard run on the first play from scrimmage. In the second period, he dived two yards for a touchdown and bolted 25 yards for another.

Despite the loss, Boll Weevil tailback Terry Lee established a one-game school rushing record for UAM, picking up 214 yards in 20 carries. Lee got the only Weevil touchdown on a 36-yard run.

Quarterback Tom Ed Goodin threw two touchdown passes for the Bison, and fullback Ted Walters scored on a one-yard plunge. In the fourth quarter, Bison touchdowns came on Jackie Alston's 30-yard run and on Alec Petway's 36-yard jaunt.

Lewis Pryor scored two touchdowns to start the Henderson Reddies to their slatest of SCA. Dennis Parker blocked a punt and rammed 15 yards for

Pentagon to order closing of bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the election over, the Pentagon is preparing a new round of base-closings and reductions that will eliminate thousands of civilian defense jobs.

The cutbacks probably will not be announced until after Congress returns in January, defense sources said.

The base cuts are being planned in response to President Nixon's orders to trim the rolls of civil service employees and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's promise to Congress to absorb $1.5 billion in budget cuts this fiscal year.

Just before the 1972 election year began, David Packard left office as deputy secretary of defense with a parting complaint that the Pentagon could save $1 billion a year by closing unneeded bases, were it not for political constraints.

The Army, Navy and Air Force long have wanted to shut down a number of bases they consider marginal. But, anticipating election year protests from congressmen and senators with large numbers of defense employees among their constituents, they waited.

Now the "political realities," as one Pentagon official termed them, are temporarily over though the list of bases most likely to be closed or cut back is being kept under wraps for the time being.

However, the Army is known to be planning a reorganization that, among other things, likely would merge the First Army headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md., and the Third Army headquarters in Atlanta, eliminating one of them. The Army also is expected to recommend retrenching helicopter training and maintenance bases now that American forces are virtually out of Vietnam.

Some sources indicate that possibly two naval shipyards, one on each coast, might be shut down. They were not named either.

Nixon gave a fresh indication of things to come last week when he said in a published interview that civilian defense employees "are getting in the way of each other over in the Pentagon and around the country" and that "they are going down."

There are reports that a 5 per cent slice in civilian employment may be applied throughout the government under Nixon's new policy, designed to reduce spending.

There now are fewer than 1.1 million civilian workers on the payroll of the Defense Department and its agencies.

Scout involved in altercation

WEEHAWKEN, N.J. (AP) — The second highest officer in the national Boy Scout organization is free today on $10,000 bail after being charged with assault with intent to kill following an altercation in the Lincoln Tunnel.

According to Port Authority police, George C. Freeman, 63, of Alexandria, Va., became embroiled in an argument Sunday evening with an off-duty New York City patrolman, John Reig, after the cars driven by the two men collided on the New Jersey approach to the tunnel here. The tunnel links midtown Manhattan with New Jersey.

ALL THAT REMAINS—Mangled wrecks are all that remain of the two vehicles in which three area men were killed Saturday afternoon near Columbus. Two brothers,

Douglas K. and Gary Caldwell died as a result of the crash. A third man, Billy Rosenbaum died in a local hospital following the collision. (See story and other photo on front page.)

28-hour, 3,800-mile flight of terror is ended

—Will Cuba return the ransom money and the hijackers to the United States?
—Why did the FBI order its marksmen to shoot the tires of the hijacked Southern DC9 and endanger the lives of the passengers and crew? An FBI spokesman declined to comment.

Police and family members identified the hijackers as Melvin Charles Cale, 21, of Oak Ridge, Tenn.; his half-brother, Lewis K. Moore, 27, of Detroit, and Henry D. Jackson, 28, also of Detroit.

The FBI here said the U.S. attorney's office in Birmingham, Ala., had been authorized to file air-piracy charges against the three.
Cale was described as an escapee from the Nashville Community Work Release Center.
Jackson and Moore were described as close friends who became embittered after losing a $4-million lawsuit in which they accused Detroit police of brutality. They were freed on $800 bond in a rape case last month.

Buchanan said it was the hijacker called "Henry" who shot Johnson after FBI agents opened fire on the plane's tires in Orlando.

Johnson told newsmen in a Miami hospital that the FBI gunfire "really provoked the hijackers. They told me they were going to kill me in front of everyone to make an example out of me." Buchanan said the copilot ducked as the hijacker fired.
Buchanan said the pilot,

Capt. Bill Haas of La Grande, Tenn., was "as courageous a person as I ever met. He instilled confidence."
When an ambulance returned Johnson to the Southern relief plane after hospital treatment in Miami, passengers waiting to be flown to their original destination gave him a standing ovation.

The flight out of Miami Sunday night, which retraced the hijacked plane's original course in reverse, marked the end of a haphazard journey that started when the twin-engine jet was commandeered over Alabama Friday night.
During its commandeered flight, the plane landed at Jackson, Miss.; Cleveland, Ohio; Toronto, Canada; Lexington, Ky.; Chattanooga; Havana; Key West and Orlando, and Havana again for a final landing.

Hijackers records revealed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Authorities say two of the three men identified as hijackers of a Southern Airways jetliner were free on bond in a rape case and the third was a recently escaped convict who attended college while in prison.
The escapee, identified as Melvin Charles Cale, is a half-brother of one of the accused rapists, relatives said.
The other two men, Henry D. Jackson, 28, and Lewis K. Moore, 27, each had been charged with three rapes and questioned in connection with several other assaults on women. Police records show Moore has never been convicted on any charges, and Jackson's only conviction was for a 1971 traffic violation.

Jackson and Moore were described as close friends whose dream of becoming rich turned sour when they were unsuccessful in a $4-million suit against the City of Detroit, accusing police of brutality.
Tennessee authorities said Cale, 21, of Oak Ridge, escaped Oct. 29 from the Nashville Community Work Release Center, a minimum-security facility for short-term prisoners. The FBI identified the three as the heavily armed hijackers who forced a DC9 with 38 persons aboard into a marathon hijack odyssey that ended early Sunday in Havana, where Cuban officials reportedly took them in custody.

Detroit authorities said Moore and Jackson have been questioned in connection with nine rapes, two assaults with intent to rape, one gross indecency and one assault and battery. Three warrants are outstanding against them, they said. On Oct. 12, the two men appeared in court on two charges of forcible rape and were released on $800 bond. A third warrant on charges of forcible rape was issued Oct. 24, but neither man showed up for the preliminary hearing, police said.

Business mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — With the election over, the war apparently nearing settlement and corporate profits surging, there is going to be a sharp focus on the stock market during the next few weeks.
These circumstances should, Wall Street is saying, produce a new mood among investors. Apathetic odd-lotters should become excited. Big traders who banked their money in American Telephone stock will speculate again.
The renewed interest, they add, should result in an upward adjustment of price-earnings ratios from about 17, based on Dow Jones industrial average stocks, because of greater investor confidence.
This is what the brokers are saying — this is what they are hoping. As one analyst said: "Investor apathy has been one of the major hindrances to a sustained advance in equity prices from current levels."
But whether hope can produce the result is another matter, and pervading the letters that analysts write to keep their clients informed and excited is the fear that maybe the gray public mood isn't going to brighten.
The fact is that the market now is highly professional. It is dominated by the trading of institutions and has been for at least a couple of years.
The public, or those Americans who own small amounts of stocks and trade infrequently, has been almost absent from the market. Unlike the institutions, which must invest in stocks, individuals can put their cash elsewhere.

And they have. The malaise of the spirit that seemed to have depressed all markets for a few years has almost completely lifted from some. Automobiles are selling briskly. So are second homes. And savings accounts are bursting.
But that same public hasn't re-entered the stock market, where they were such a potent force during the 1960s. And so, mutual funds are redeeming more than selling. Stock salesmen are being laid off.
There has been another effect also. Because they have been trading against each other, the institutions can't seem to get a good rally going. For months the market has sputtered and lost power every time one got started.
The hope now is that the public mood will change, especially as attention is drawn to the Dow Jones Industrial Average as it hovers near 1,000 points. So far, however, there is only slight indication that this will be so.
Small investors have bitter memories of recent years. They have seen how sudden price swings from institutional trading could strip them of assets it took years to accumulate. They aren't eager to play that role again.

Trial --

against them was seven to two. Douglas said he regretted that his colleagues did not take the occasion to lay down some further ground rules for the conduct of criminal cases involving electronic surveillance. He also said that it was time "we hold that the confidences of the lawyer-client relationship remain inviolate."
Douglas said he had examined the logs "and it appears that the electronics surveillance was of a telephone of a foreign national and that the intercepted conversations in this case had nothing to do with respect to activities of foreign persons or their agents."
Last Aug. 9, U.S. District Judge Matt Byrne of Los Angeles, who was presiding at the trial, sent the jurors home until the court settled the appeal.
Shortly after the trial had begun, the government submitted to Judge Byrne a surveillance log on one of the defense's 16 lawyers and consultants. Subsequently, the government said the wiretap was for purposes of "foreign intelligence" and was authorized by the attorney general without the supervision of a judge.
Ellsberg and Russo argued that the defense should be permitted to see the log.

How can I get to sleep?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a 31-year-old man, single and live at home with my parents. I work five days a week for a construction company and have a business of my own on the side. For over a year now I have had insomnia. I am unable to get a good night's sleep without taking a sleeping pill or aspirin or something to produce sleep. I don't know of anything that has been worrying me. I'm the type that can shake things off easily, but it seems that I am always turned on at bedtime, tired but just not sleepy.
I have lost so much sleep that it is beginning to show in my eyes. I look tired and I really am tired. Is there anything you can suggest for a good natural sleep without taking a pill? Could there be something physically or mentally wrong that I don't know about, such as nerves, smoking or other causes?
I have gone to doctors and they give me a check-up and tell me not to worry about it and give me some medicine to relax. One doctor told me about half of the world suffers from insomnia, but I know there must be a reason for my sleepless nights.

I suppose each person has to find his own best sleeping habits and they are just that—habits. A person who gets in the habit of having difficulty going to sleep will continue to have trouble.
My guess is that someone who is regularly employed and has a business on the side is probably an active individual who has enough things to think about that he just can't dispense with the day's business and relax enough to get a good night's sleep. I would suggest a good exercise program sometime earlier in the evening, well before the anticipated bedtime. Then establish a routine for going to sleep, such as a relaxing bath or shower. Then go to bed and read something to help you relax for a short time, lay the book aside put out the lights and let nature take its course. Make it a point not to have a habit of rehashing the day's events or tomorrow's problems before you go to sleep.
Eliminating stimulating drinks will help solve this problem for a lot of people. This includes elimination of coffee, tea and cola drinks.
In your case, I wonder if your social life is getting proper attention. With a full-time job and a business on the side, that may not leave enough time for healthy recreation and developing meaningful personal relationships in which you feel secure.

Cheerleading contest held

A cheerleading contest for Little League and PeeWee League cheerleaders was sponsored Saturday morning by the Hope Parks and Recreation Department. Some groups, like the one at left, relied on airborne tactics to try and gain points, while others, above, stayed on the ground. In the PeeWee division, the "Mean Greens" won first place—and members of the squad are Sandra Yokum, Penny Mciver, Shirley Ashworth, Cindy Hawthorne, and Cindy Estes. Second place went to the "Reds", and members are Mary Stuart, Terri Haynes, Carolyn Allen, Kim Connelly, and Tricia Endsley. In the Little League division, the "Reds" won first place. Members of that team are Janet Davidson, Sandra Frierson, Tricia Dugger, Julie Graves, Sydney Tye, and Jamie Duncan. There was a tie for second place between the "Blues" and the "Whites". Members of the Blue team are Renell Williams, Christy Hartless, Paula Parker, Lori Lorrard, Karen Helms, Crisla Hudson, M. Hudson, Dana Pettie, and Carla Smith. Sydney Snyard, Kim Hairr, and Carol Lockard were the competing members of the White team.

Brandt: Looking homeward for support

BONN, Germany (AP) — Willy Brandt won the Nobel Peace Prize a year ago for turning West Germany away from the cold war. Now 40 million German voters must decide whether to award him the supreme political prize at home — re-election as their chancellor.

In next Sunday's election Brandt faces one of the toughest fights of a life that has taken him through humble origins, Nazi persecution, wartime exile, cold war pressure, and two election failures.

After finally winning election in 1969 as the first postwar Socialist chancellor, he moved to ease tension with his Ostpolitik — Eastern policy — but suffered domestic setbacks including a losing battle with inflation.

Whether the Germans discard

Fragging trial goes to the jury

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — A military jury of two black and five white officers begins deliberations today on the fate of a black soldier accused of murdering two young Army lieutenants in a Vietnam "fragging" incident.

Although there have been numerous such incidents in the war — 96 in 1969 and 200 in 1970 resulting in 101 deaths — the court-martial of Pvt. Billy Dean Smith on charges of using a fragmentation grenade to kill fellow soldiers is the first conducted in the United States.

The presiding judge, Col. Rawls H. Frazier, said he would give his final instructions today and then send the case to the jury. He has ruled the jury will deliberate only during normal work hours.

When the trial began Sept. 6, Frazier ruled that Smith could not receive the death penalty. But he still faces the possibility of life imprisonment.

The prosecution and defense concluded their cases in lengthy final summaries during the weekend.

Smith, 24, of Los Angeles is charged with killing 1st Lt. Thomas Dellwo of Choteau, Mont., and 2nd Lt. Richard Harlan of Dallas, Tex.

Both died shortly after midnight March 15, 1971, at the Bien Hoa Army Base near Saigon when a grenade exploded in their quarters.

The Army also has charged Smith with assault and attempted murder.

The latter charge is based on the government's contention that Smith was attempting to kill his commanding officer, Capt. Randall L. Rigby of Ft. Sill, Okla., and 1st Sgt. Billie Willis of Big Stony Gap, Va.

him or keep him in power, Brandt will go down in history as a unique figure.

A tall man who holds his head back and chin up in an almost theatrically statesmanlike pose, Brandt speaks slowly and methodically. His voice is full of gravel. At 58 his hair is gray and his face is lined, but he can look boyish at times and sets an energetic campaign pace.

The influence that produced him began in the foggy northern port of Luebeck.

Brandt does not hide the fact that his birth was illegitimate and he never met his father. His mother was a shop clerk in a working-class family. His grandfather was a militant Socialist activist.

Under his original name, Herbert Frahm, he led a young Socialist political group in Luebeck during the years after World War I — years of disastrous German inflation, unemployment and governmental instability that helped Adolf Hitler rise to power.

The Nazis had beaten up Socialists in the streets even before Hitler took over control in 1933, and 20-year-old Frahm had good reason to fear imprisonment or worse.

He changed his name to Willy Brandt and fled to Norway.

When Hitler's Wehrmacht seized Norway in 1940 Brandt posed as a Norwegian soldier and was briefly held as a prisoner of war. Upon release he fled to neutral Sweden.

During his Norwegian exile he had married a Norwegian girl, Carlotta. She and their daughter Nina joined him in Stockholm. During the war they were divorced, and in 1948 in Berlin he married his current wife, Rut, also Norwegian. That year he also re-entered German politics.

During almost 10 cold war years as West Berlin mayor, the ruggedly handsome Social Democrat gave voice to the defiant but troubled mood of his city, cut in two in 1961 by a Communist wall of slabs and barbed wire.

As foreign minister in a West German grand coalition government in 1966-69, Brandt restored Bonn's diplomatic ties with Yugoslavia and opened up relations with Romania.

Before the 1969 election he failed twice to win election as chancellor but each time his Social Democrats increased their vote share. Social Democrats finally won control of parliament in 1969 by joining Free Democrats in a coalition.

In 1970 he signed nonaggression treaties with Moscow and Warsaw. he made the first trip of a Bonn chancellor to Communist East Germany. This month the two Germanys initiated a treaty normalizing their relations and offering hope of closer ties.

Along the way, Brandt's efforts helped create the atmosphere for a four power agreement defusing Berlin as a flashpoint of cold war tension and easing access to the Communist-encircled city.

Total Electric Heat

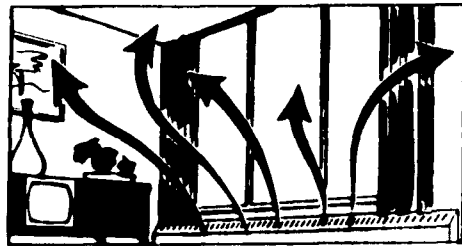

Slip into something comfortable.

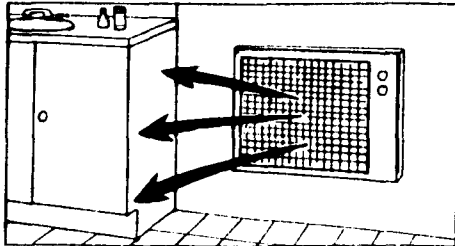

Ask AP&L to advise you on the kind of electric heating that's right for you. Let's Get Together.

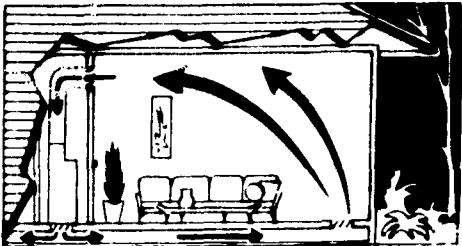

Electric Heat Pump This system provides heating and cooling from the same unit while it filters the air clean. It's called a heat pump because it "pumps heat" in two directions—into the home for heating and out of the home for cooling.

Electric Baseboard This system fits neatly against the wall and uses little floor space. Other features of electric baseboard heat include individual temperature control in each room and no moving parts.

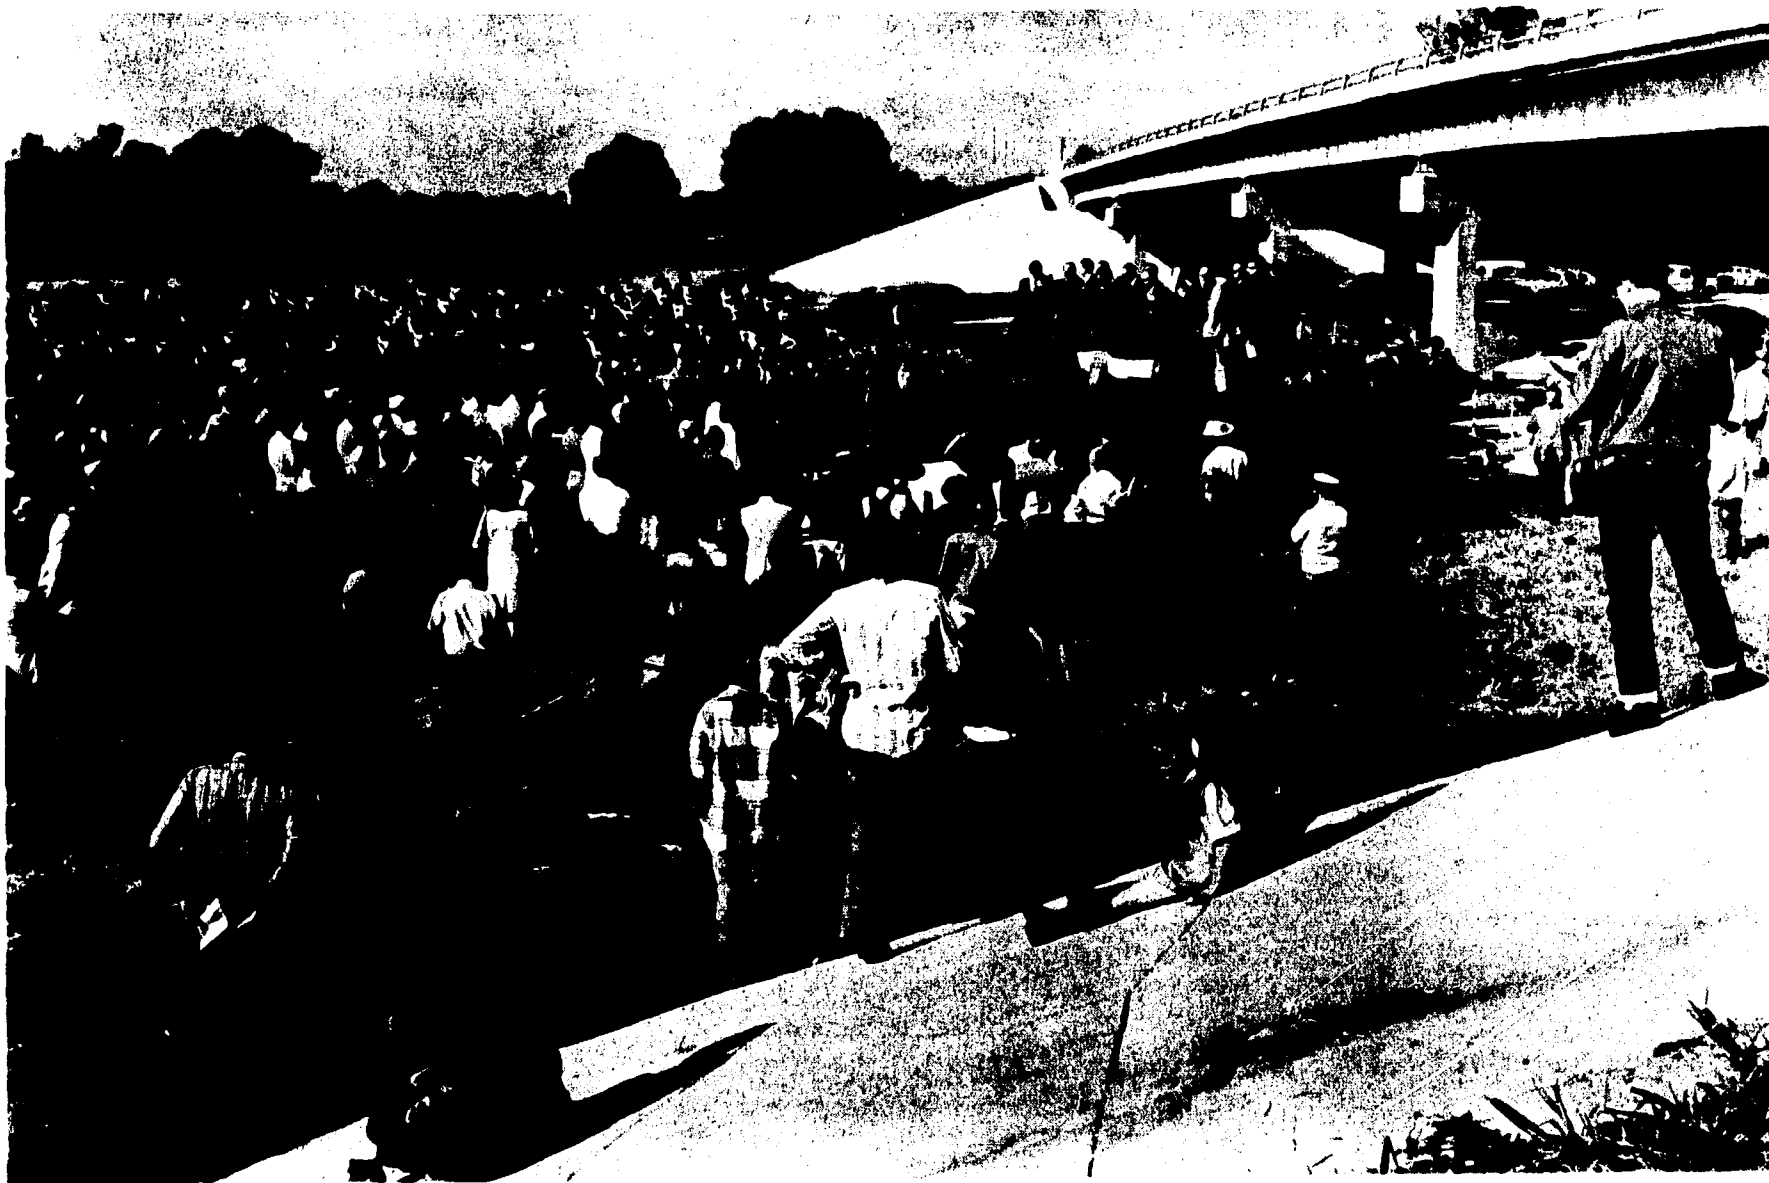

Electric Wall Insert This electric heating system is inserted flush with the wall in each room so that you can heat only those rooms you're using. Each unit is controlled by its own thermostat.

Electric Furnace The furnace tucks away neatly in closet space, attic or any out-of-the-way place and circulates warm, filtered air throughout the home.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The United States had about 205,000 miles of railroad tracks as of Jan. 1, 1971. The World Almanac notes that one state, Hawaii, has discontinued its railroad service which has been replaced by air, sea and road transit. Texas leads in trackage with 13,616 miles, but Alaska has only 503 miles, making it third lowest, followed by Delaware with 287 and Rhode Island, 148.

Something to chew over
CHICAGO (UPI) — Gary Ward of Criderville, Ohio, wants children to stop putting small objects in their mouths. He also wants parents and teachers to have youngsters dispose of all short pencils. Gary is nine and in the fourth grade, says a family safety story in the National Safety Council's magazine. The story is by Gary and it is titled, "I swallowed my pencil."
He did when he had his pencil in his mouth and was chewing on it for inspiration. It lodged in his stomach and was removed via surgery. He was out of commission for more than six weeks. "I had missed school, I could not play little league baseball, and swimming, all because of a little pencil," he reported.

Fattening females
TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese women grow rapidly fatter with age, according to a recently published government survey of 18,000 persons in 4,300 households.

It showed that among women in their twenties 10.6 per cent were overweight, in their thirties 22.9 per cent, in their forties 30.9 per cent and in their fifties 36.9 per cent.

— Slow down at sundown.

POSTER CHILD for the 1973 March of Dimes is Paula Pfeiffer, 5, of Tulsa, Okla. Paula, who represents a quarter of a million American children stricken with birth defects each year, was born with open spine and club feet and at six weeks, developed water on the brain. After nine operations, she now walks well, and even runs, with the aid of partial leg braces.

Opening lead—♥ Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "The 'nothing' play is any play which can only cost you a trick. It differs from a bad percentage play in that a bad percentage play will win on occasion."

Jim: "I see you are leading up to a hand where there are three ways to play the trump suit in a slam contract. The bad percentage play is to lay down the ace and try to drop a singleton king. This will gain a trick for you the 13 per cent of the time that the singleton king is back of the ace. It breaks even the 13 per cent of the time that the singleton king is in front of the ace."

Oswald: "The 'nothing' play occurs when you miss king-10-small as with today's hand. When actually played, South won the heart lead in dummy and played a low spade. East played the seven and South finessed the jack. West showed out and South had no way to avoid the loss

What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. Even if you play this as forcing you can't afford to just raise to two.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid three spades and your partner rebids to four clubs. What do you do now?

British satellite

LONDON (UPI) — A third satellite communications aerial has been put into service at Goonhilly Downs in Cornwall, the British Post Office announced.

It said the new installation, valued at $5.6 million, makes Goonhilly "the world's first earth station to operate simultaneous commercial service through three satellites."

The new aerial, locked into Intelstat IV F2 satellite over the Atlantic, is providing telephone traffic between the United Kingdom and Jamaica and Trinidad, the Post Office said.

Committee refuses to disclose $

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican committee that channeled $100,000 into President Nixon's re-election campaign says it does not have to make known the sources of its funds despite a new federal law requiring disclosure of all over-$100 contributors.

Auditors for the General Accounting Office say the position of the Executive Club of the Republican party of New Jersey, if upheld in the courts, could open a major loophole in the elections law which took effect last April 7.

The club contends its money came from dues and that dues are not contributions. GAO auditors say there could be a proliferation of such clubs to evade the full disclosure provisions of the new law.

The auditors say they will press the club for disclosure, possibly launching a field audit in the next few weeks and then turning their findings over to the Justice Department if the club remains adamant.

The name of the Executive Club first emerged in October in reports by national and state-level Finance Committees

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two Water Department truck drivers found $92,400 in a sewer and gave the money to authorities.

Now they must decide whether to accept a reward or risk suing for the return of the amount they found.

Louis Lagana, 57, and Cardell Williams, 41, found the batch of $100 bills last Nov. 22 while cleaning out a sewer inlet. The Federal Reserve Bank said the money was part of $1.4 million in old bills which were to be destroyed but were stolen instead.

The theft was discovered after the money was found.

The men have been offered a tax-free reward in excess of the traditional 10 per cent finder's fee often offered by federal agencies, attorney Anthony P. Baratta said Saturday.

However, their lawyer said, if the men go to court, a jury would feel "very sympathetic toward them." But they risk the chance of losing any reward if the jury decides against them.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Some people vote a split ticket; others have to live it.

But that might not be too bad if you take the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Castagne of Spokane.

"Never argue about politics and religion," says Mrs. Castagne.

She was elected Democratic committeewoman from Spokane Precinct No. 8. Her husband was elected Republican committeeman in the same precinct.

Dr. Miller will speak

Dr. J. Cloyd Miller, speaker and humorist, will be featured at the Arkansas Retired Teachers Silver Anniversary Luncheon in Little Rock, Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the Hotel Lafayette.

Dr. Miller, a retired college president, calls himself "The Jerk From Albuquerque." He will use the topic, "Do You Want To Be An Old Dog?"

Christine Poindecker, ARTA president, will preside at the 1972 Annual Convention business meeting beginning at 10 a.m. in the Capitol View Room of the Lafayette. Newly-elected officers will be installed by Lois Gray, area vice president of the National Retired Teachers Association.

Others scheduled to appear on the luncheon program are Dr. Harry A. Little of North Little Rock, Mrs. Gladys Nunn of Fort Worth, Mrs. Mark Bettis and Pauline Jordan of Little Rock, and James B. Abraham of London.

to Re-elect the President. In all, the club reported contributing $3,000 to each of 33 Nixon committees and $1,000 to a 34th.

Newsman seeking identification of the individual contributors could find no record of the club having registered with the GAO nor of its having filed any reports of expenditures or contributions.

The new law requires that any committee which anticipates collecting or spending more than $1,000 for a national candidate in any calendar year must register with the GAO. It also must file periodic reports of all contributions and expenditures of more than $100 and must show how much cash was on hand at the time of each filing.

After news stories appeared about the committee, its chairman, William B. Colsey III, a Mount Holly, N.J., attorney, filed a registration statement and reports for Sept. 10 and for the 15th and 5th days before the Nov. 7 election, the deadlines set by the law.

But Colsey, in a separate letter to the GAO and in comments affixed to each report, said the club was formed "on a local basis."

People in the News

NEW YORK (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger took time out from affairs of state to attend a Broadway show and a professional football game matching the New York Jets and Buffalo Bills.

After watching the Jets smash the Bills 41-3 Sunday, Kissinger mingled with the Jet players in their locker room and commented, "They were all so friendly after having been so tough on the field minutes earlier."

Kissinger also posed for photographs with Jets quarterback Joe Namath, linebacker Larry Grantham and coach Weeb Ewbank.

Kissinger said that, as a boy, he was a "baseball nut who idolized Yankee players like Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich."

On Saturday night, Kissinger attended a performance of the Broadway show "That Championship Season."

NEW YORK (AP) — Israel's defense minister, Moshe Dayan, has arrived in the United States for talks in Washington later this week with Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Dayan was whisked away by security men after landing at Kennedy Airport Sunday.

He is to meet with Rogers Thursday and has said the talks will center on relations between Israel and the United States and U.S. arms sales to the Israelis.

Governors hatching strategy for ousting Westwood?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Democratic governors may hatch strategy for ousting party chairman Jean Westwood when they meet here today in the wake of President Nixon's landslide victory over George McGovern.

The governors have no formal power to take action against Mrs. Westwood, but a source involved in the anti-Westwood effort said Sunday they probably will begin pressuring her publicly to resign.

Many party officeholders, representatives of organized labor and others have said, mostly in private, that Mrs. Westwood is so closely associated with the badly-beaten McGovern and party reforms spearheaded by him that she would no longer be effective as head of the party apparatus.

Expected at today's meeting were Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, who called the meeting in his capacity as chairman of the Democratic Governors Caucus, and Govs. Wendell Anderson of Minnesota, Marvin Mandel of Maryland, Reubin Askew of Florida and Kenneth Curtis of Maine.

Last week Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas broke the ice on the Westwood issue when he publicly called for her to step down. Sunday, former party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said on NBC's "Meet the Press" that, if he were still chairman, he would volunteer his resignation and seek a vote of confidence from the Democratic National Committee. But, he noted, Mrs. Westwood is not required to take that action.

Hindsight anyone?

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll says its next-to-last pre-election survey showed that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy would have made a stronger race against President Nixon than Sen. George McGovern.

Nixon led McGovern by 59 to 36 per cent in the mid-October survey. Asked how they would vote if the choice were between Nixon and Kennedy instead, the same persons gave the President only a 52-43 edge, pollster George Gallup said Sunday.

Kennedy's strength showed up as early as December 1971, when a poll showed him to be the strongest potential candidate among Democratic voters. The Massachusetts Democrat trailed Nixon by only 3 per cent points at the time, Gallup said.

Kennedy declined to be a candidate, however; and he campaigned for McGovern
